7,000 plus enjoy MTF open house

If attendance is any criterion, the Labor Day open house at the Mississippi Test Facility was one of the most successful events ever staged in Hancock County.

Conservative estimates put the number of visitors at 7,000. Briefings on the test site's goals in Project Apollo were given to some 2,700 persons during the day in the 277-seat auditorium of the central control building.

The briefings had been planned on the hour every hour from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., but at noon the presentations were stepped up to every half hour and nine were given during the day.

The tour of the NASA installation may be the last one for the general public before it is completely closed when static testing of the Saturn V rockets start. The guard houses and reception centers on the north and south entrances are to be completed next March but it is likely the site will be closed before then.

Billboards throughout the site list the number of days to the first static firing. Monday it was -11. Today's it's minus 115.

Another effort to secure reapportionment of Hancock County's supervisory districts was initiated last week.

Four voters and taxpayers in Beat 5 filed suit against the board of supervisors in U.S. District Court at Biloxi asking that the present districting be voided, an injunction issued commanding the defendants to submit a redistricting plan in conformity with legal standards for the court's approval, and apportionment of the county by the court if the supervisors fail to conform.

The plaintiffs are Dr. A.K. Martinolich, Powell Glass, Jr., Mrs. Carol Martinolich and Mrs. Joan deSardion Glass.

They allege the present districting violates the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, results in discrimination against them and all others in Beat 5 and hence a minority of the people of the county control the board of supervisors.

The suit further charges that the state law requiring 25 per cent of the qualified voters of the county to petition for redistricting is unconstitutional.

Based on the 1960 census, 63 per cent of the county's population resides in Beat 5, according to the suit. The county total is 14,040 and Beat 5's is 8,853. Beat 1 has 1,333 or 9.4 per cent, Beat 2 has 869 or 6.1 per cent, Beat 3 has 1,477 or 10.5 per cent and Beat 4 has 1,383 or 9.8 per cent.

Sixty-nine per cent of the county's real estate and personal property (excluding automobiles) assessment for 1965 is in Beat 5. Of the total valuation of $12,093,444, this beat has $8,267,983.

Upton Sisson of Gulfport, attorney for the plaintiffs, said U.S. District Judge Harold Cox indicated Monday he was certifying the case to the chief judge of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans who is to designate three judges to hear the case. When the three-judge panel is named it will set the time to hear the complaint.

In February, 1963, a group of Beat 5 citizens filed suit in Hancock County Chancery Court against the county election commission asking that it call all supervisory elections on an at-large basis until satisfactory redistricting was completed. On a demurrer filed by J. Norton Haas, one of the three-man (Cont. on Page 7.)

Blame Hubbard Supervisors resent suit

The right of an appointive county official to challenge beat lines came under fire Tuesday when Beat 1 Supervisor H.G. Dean called Dr. A.K. Martinolich, president of the port and harbor commission, and the entire commission on the carpet for Martinolich's participation in a redistricting suit filed against the board of supervisors in U.S. District Court at Biloxi last week.

Dean accused Martinolich is personally slowing up development of Hancock County by going to the federal courts on redistricting and later that day read into the minutes of the supervisors' meeting a request for Martinolich's resignation.

The doctor, who is the Beat 5 member of the port body, contended, "I don't abdicate my rights as a citizen because I'm a port commissioner." He maintained the suit was a friendly one aimed at securing long overdue redistricting. The action was not meant to engender the high emotion it had and was not a reflection on personal character, he continued.

If he were a supervisor, Martinolich continued, he would appoint a commission to study redistricting on the basis of population, roads, assessments and geographical area.

Dean complained that the port commission had failed to comply with his request in April 1964, to recommend a redistricting plan and now one of its number had gone to court on the topic. Martinolich acknowledged the request had been made when H.H. Shattuck, then Bay St. Louis commissioner, was president. He said the (Cont. on Page 7.)

Circuit Court jurors called

Jurors have been summoned for the September term of Circuit Court which opens Monday with a moderately busy docket of criminal and civil cases shaping up. A grand jury is to be empaneled Monday morning by Judge Leslie B. Grant.

Called to serve from Beat 1 are John E. Givens, Ogden M. Walls, Charles A. Russ, III, Leroy Christmas, Albert Acker, George Cook Lucas, Joel Burris Adams, August Moran, Ben Christmas, Elliott R. Givens, John Robert Ladner and Earl Holden.

From Beat 2 are Julius F. Davis, Jordan Mitchell, James

E. Carbonette, D. F. Lee, Hubert Thigpen, Charles J. Moran, J.L. Davis, Keine Edon Miller, Charley E. Malley, Felix J. Famularo, Roy Welch and Bobby McQueen.

On the Beat 3 list are Clifford Saucier, Weldon Shaw, Loren Necaise, Clarence J. Cameron, Hollan J. Ladner, Denford Ladner, Alvin McGathen, Royce Glen Ladner, Ramsey Caperton, Clinton Carl Shaw, Frankie Le Necaise and Melvin Shaw.

Buses bogged

The Ansley area school trustees met Tuesday on a 24-hour basis by parents' decision in the matter of transportation.

It seems, had the area de-mire could be ar-

Board president Edward P. Orte said he had inspected the roads on three different occasions and where the drying crust was sufficient to support an automobile, it was far from adequate for a heavily laden school bus.

"I even found the spot where the bus had stuck in the center of the road," said the president.

Trustees agreed they wanted to send buses back into all student residences but some roads in the Ansley district prevented this.

Finally both the board and the parents decided to ask the supervisor of Beat 1, H.G. Dean, to install culverts where necessary and undertake a road grading and renovation program that would permit school bus passage under all weather conditions.

Board members also considered purchasing several new units to replace those described by Orte as being in rattietrap condition. "We are getting complaints of bus breakdowns," said Orte, "and we are asking our two mechanics to keep a bunch of rattie-trap buses running. We must get some new buses." Trustee Eric Larsen called transportation the biggest problem in the system today and (Cont. on Page 7.)

Millage, 3 trustees before board Friday

Bids for sale of the $350,000 bond issue for county school building were called for Sept. 21 when the board of supervisors met Tuesday but decision on other major questions was tabled until Friday at the earliest.

Setting of the millage for 1965-66 is expected to be a big question when the board convenes at 10 a.m. Friday. Also on the docket will be the appointment of three trustees for Hancock General Hospital.

Terms expiring are those of Cornelius Ladner and John D. Rutherford, Jr., at large members, and Clifton Saucier of Beat 3. Bids on the hospital addition are due at 2 p.m. that day.

Hospital Administrator Thomas O. Logue appeared Tuesday to ask that the present 2.5 mills for the hospital be retained and that "politics" be kept out of the hospital, where the job is to care for the sick, in the appointments.

board's attorney then advised as to the proper opening date. The election commission canvass on the bond referendum also was accepted.

Payment of $54,000 was accepted from the federal government for road relocation as a result of Mississippi Test Facility. This brings to $90,000 the amount collected in installments to date and leaves $115,000 in work to be done, according to George Wier, county engineer.

The distribution, with the second installment listed first and the total to date second is: Beat 1 - $10,805.10 a p.d. $24,535.60; Beat 2 - $13,152.25 a n.d. $24,366.60; Beat 3 - (Cont. on Page 7.)

Hancock gets 1st I-10 bids

First bids on construction of Interstate 10 in Mississippi have been called for opening Tuesday, Sept. 20, by the State Highway Commission.

The work is on a 2.2 mile strip in Hancock County between the East Pearl River Bridge and State R. 43. It includes grading, drainage and pavement.

Plans completed for county schools

Next, substantial and practical was the way architect Fred Wagner described his design of educational facilities slated for construction at Lakeshore (Gulfview), Pearlinton and Hancock North Central when addressing county school trustees on Tuesday.

Forty sheets of drawings and a volume of specifications were inspected by board members while Wagner described the function of each page.

Board president Edward P. Orte accepted the packet and thanked Wagner for fulfilling his contract on time.

"I am going to meet with T.M. Naylor of the State Education Finance Commission in Jackson on Thursday," said Orte, "and he will provide us with a bid date. Our attorney says all is well with the bond issue and now we have these specifications we are ready to commence advertising for construction cost bids."

Wagner and Robert F. Ladner, county education superintendent, are due to accompany Orte to Jackson and will assist with the president's report to the board slated for Friday.

A tentative schedule calls for bids to close around the middle of October with construction to commence immediately after that date.

Bids will be sought on an alternate basis for all sites, with a variation provided in the number of classrooms at Pearlinton and Lakeshore and the addition or deletion of the industrial arts addition at Hancock North Central.

Some of the highlights in the plans were: buildings to be of concrete block construction with a brick exterior; internal heating ducts of a size and type that will allow for least convection to air conditioning; cafeterias and kitchens of sufficient size and with adequate equipment to handle additional students when further school expansion is required; large storage facilities; wide overhangs on all roofs to allow for classroom windows to remain open even in heavy rain; copper expansion joints in roof packing; current school bus unloading areas leading into covered walks that in turn lead into school buildings proper; and a variety of wall finishes.

Service board moves against draft dodgers

Selective service regulations have been amended to read that any non-volunteer registrant between the ages of 19 and 26 who marries after Aug. 26, 1965 and is not deferred shall be placed in the third order of selection.

This means he will be ordered to report for induction along with single registrants of similar age.

We're Growing

Dan Egan has opened Marina East at Pearlinton, located on the East Pearl River one block south of the Postoffice. His son, Jay, is assisting with its operation and Sonny Malone of Sildell, marine diver, is the staff.

Write-Way Cleaners, operated by Carl C. Wright, with Mrs. Jessie De Jong as plant manager, and located on U.S. 90 service drive, just west of Dunbar Avenue, is now open. Write-Way will offer one hour dry cleaning service and boasts most modern equipment available.

Missile Pizza Shop, opening Friday on U.S. 90 service drive between Main Street and Dunbar, is owned by Carol and Steve Kates, who also operate The Pizza Restaurant. They will offer 15 varieties of pizzas, any combination, delivered by the company.

L.L. Karpov and Son have moved into the business building on addition to handling truck tires.

Post Control Service Company, now being operated in Waveland by James Macklin and Cliff Sivori, will offer post elimination, lawn and garden care post control.

As leaden clouds hang heavily overhead and menacing little raindrops give the water a faintly ominous appearance, we realize it's time to enlighten new residents on local procedure during our annual hurricane season which is obviously close upon us. We're not going to give the usual advice about not going outside during the eye, (the calm right smack in the middle of this type of storm), or tell you how many candles and how much food to buy, because that sort of information can be obtained anywhere, and as only three severe hurricanes have hit this area in the past 65 years, the odds of it by passing us are pretty much in our favor. We just want to prepare newcomers for the inevitable hurricane parties, which can begin almost as quickly as the first weather forecaster mentions tropical disturbance, and sometimes go on for days. Certain areas are closer to sea level than others, which means that residents of such spots stock up on party necessities and move in with friends living in higher and dryer locales, schools or motels. A few chickens took off for supposedly safe Hattiesburg last September and ran into much higher winds than were experienced here, as they were attempting to return home. . . so unless orders are given to vacate, we suggest you follow tradition, remain at home and have a hurricane party. If the storm should arrive, most won't be in any shape to hear the wind or feel the rain, by that time, anyway.

Our congratulations

Just about the happiest news of the week is the wedding of Adelaide Wyatt and Lt. Col. Alfred McClell, Jr., which took place on Saturday at Christ Episcopal Church. We had an idea that romance was afoot when Adelaide introduced us to the most charming Colonel on Monday, as they were preparing to lunch together. We want to offer congratulations and wish for them the best of everything.

Phyllis, Folwell, who owns a travel agency in Lake Arrowhead, Calif., and was Karen Williams' hostess for the summer, returned home with her for a visit with Karen's parents, Jane and Owen and boys, David, Doug, Cricket and Richard. Apparently this isn't her first trip here as she brought two thermos bottles of water with which to brush her teeth on the plane all the way from California. We tried to convince her that this water is delicious once you get used to it, but to no avail.

Notebook jottings

Fire Chief Walter Saucier, Mrs. Saucier and daughter spent their vacation in Chattanooga, Tenn. Ferdinand Ramond tells us he and Mrs. Ramond out-did fellow grandparents, Irene and Lloyd Bourgeois, who had two grandchildren in ten days. The Ramonds daughter, Doris, and husband, Larry Peterson, became parents of a daughter, Theresa, on Tuesday before son, Gene, and wife, Carol Ann's first child arrived on Sunday.

Gertrude and Larry Sauer are driving around in a brand new car. Mrs. Claude Vincent had one of the largest birthdays we've heard about of late on Friday. Husband Claude gifted her with a beautiful matched set of diamond engagement and wedding rings plus a lovely watch.

Alphonse Favre is now at home after spending six days in Hancock General Hospital.

Jane and Lou Williams are 'grandparents' of an adorable beagle puppy. Their pup fathered Louella and Travis Culbreath's female's litter of four, but we're sorry to report that only one survived.

Animal notes

It is with much relief we report daughter Catchie's founding pup, Little Cat, is apparently in good health after being hospitalized in Dr. Bob Akar's clinic for two days arsenic treatment for heart worms. . . and we would like to add a word of warning to new residents from cooler climes who may not be aware of this canine affliction, heart worm eggs are being carried by mosquitoes. It used to be almost always fatal as the disease is in advanced stages before symptoms appear, which makes treatment difficult. . . but a simple blood test every six months will show whether or not your dog has the worms and beginning treatment early is of the utmost importance.

Gripe corner

Again we harp on thoughtless drivers; this time it's those who either refuse to dim lights or wait until the approaching driver is completely blinded before dimming. It would do no good what-so-ever to quote the state law in this case as few (Cont. on Page 9.)

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS

Mr. Hoffman

The wedding of Miss Gail Gentili to Warren W. Hoffman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hoffman of Pottsville, Pa., is announced this week by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gentili of Waveland.

The wedding is planned at 11 a.m. Saturday at St. Clare's Catholic Church in Waveland, followed by a reception at the Gentili home, 202 Vacation Lane.

The bride-elect is a spring graduate of Bay High School. Mr. Hoffman was educated in Pottsville schools and completed his pre-medical training at Villanova University. He is now stationed with the Air Force at Sacramento, Calif.

Miss Gentili has been honored at a number of showers. Mrs. Clifton Roberts entertained for her on the evening of Aug. 20 in the banquet room at Horne's while Misses Sue Bushler and Ann Bushler were hostesses last week at the American Legion Home. Mrs. William McDonald of Tacoma, Wash., the Gentili's former home, gave a shower for her there Sept. 1 while Mrs. Dennis Bill and Mrs. Russell Harmon were hostesses in Pottsville over the weekend.

Open house

Quite a large group from here took advantage of MTF's open house as Labor Day entertainment. All who took the tour were most impressed.

Welcome back to Bay St. Louis, Evelyn and Charles Cox and children Charles, Kathy and Laura. The Coxes are overjoyed at their return. Charles will resume practice of medicine from his Carroll Avenue office formerly occupied by Paul Odum. Evelyn still thinks of the Bay as home as she was born here and attended her first two years of school at St. J. Ingram. They were previously here for eight months in '64.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS A-LONG THE WAY - The departing caravan of Labor Day vacationers as they wind their way back to the cities leaving suddenly vacant beaches, piers and seawall; dedicated "sidewalk foremen" gazing with fascination at monumental excavation projects as sewer work spreads from street to street and the rumbling, roaring, ripping sounds made by mammoth pieces of machinery.

LAKEHORE GC - Lakeshore Garden Club will meet at 1 p.m. next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ben Peterson in Clermont Harbor.

MISS SANDRA TRAYER

Washingtonian betrothed to Mr. Wicktom

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Trayer of Richland, Wash., of the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Kay, to Albert Wicktom, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wicktom of Fenton.

The wedding is planned for Sept. 18 at St. Margaret's Church in Seattle.

The bride-elect is a 1962 graduate of Lenton High School, Lenton, N. D., and is now a statistical clerk with an insurance firm in Seattle.

Her fiancé was graduated from Hancock North Central High School in 1962 and is now stationed aboard the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Klamath based in Seattle.

Methodist revival planned

Rev. David Ulmer, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church of McComb, is to be guest speaker at a revival scheduled for Oct. 10 to 14 inclusive at Main Street Methodist Church.

Committee chairman charged with responsibility for arrangements in addition to Wheat are: Mrs. C.C. McDonald, spiritual life; Owen Williams, music; Jim and Dave McDonald, ushers and finance; Mrs. Sam Whitfield, fellowship and entertainment and Mrs. J. W. Clark, publicity.

ROCK-A-CHAWS CLASH - Coach Billy Murphy's Rock-A-Chaws workout at St. Stanislaus Stadium in preparation for game against Shaw of New Orleans on Saturday. Team is up to full strength and both offensive and defensive squad are ready for action.

Tigers, Tomcats slosh to 0-0 tie

In mud reminiscent of World War I, Bay High Tigers and Stone High Tomcats sloshed and skidded their way to a scoreless tie on Friday when they met in a football season opener at Bay High Stadium.

A fumble on the Tomcat's one foot line ended the only serious threat made by the Tiger offensive squad and a breakaway by Larry Strohm of the Tomcats was stopped at the Tiger 23 yard marker after a gain of 77 yards.

Lines held even in the adverse playing conditions and Stone High's most serious and threatening march fizzled out on the Tiger 10 when they lost possession on downs.

Statistically Bay High held the edge with five first downs, two completions from 11 pass attempts, for a total of eleven yards, and registered 147 yards rushing for a total advance of 158 yards. The Tigers fumbled four times, lost three of these, intercepted one pass, punted four times and were assessed two penalties.

Stone amassed 93 net yards from 7 completed passes, in 17 attempts, and 14 yards rushing. Also scoring five first downs, the Tomcats punted four times, received two penalties intercepted one pass, fumbled once and recovered and gained a punting average of 31 yards. Tigers now meet Pass Christian, 21-7 victors over VanCleave last week, on Friday in the Pirate's lair.

Hawks open with 21-14 victory

Thirty seconds remained on the clock when quarterback Kenny Randall raced 17 yards to put the winning count on the scoreboard when Hancock North Central defeated Sumrall, 21-14, in an inter-conference pre-season football opener at the Hawk Stadium on Friday.

In a see-saw game which found both teams tied at the half, Hancock's Hawks made a total of 335 net yards advance to the Sumrall squad's 198.

Werlin Ladner, after a three-yard dead center run in the initial quarter put the first numbers into the record books and Wendell Ladner kicked the convert to put his team ahead 7-0.

In play preceding the TD, Randall zoomed a 17-yard pass to Wendell Ladner to put his Hawks into scoring position.

Hawks' second score came in the second period after an almost identical pass, Randall to

The final seconds to go TD climaxed a 50-yard Hawk advance that kept spectators on their feet and cheerleaders shouting.

Sumrall scores came during the first two periods. Their
